

CORPORATE LIABILITY, ADEQUATE PROCEDURES AND ISO 37001 ANTI-BRIBERY MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

OVERVIEW

From 1 June 2020, the MACC (Amendment) Act 2018 will come into force, introducing corporate liability for corruption offences for the first time in Malaysia. The Act means that company directors and senior management will be held personally liable for acts of corruption committed by the company, either by their own personnel or by parties acting on behalf the organisation. Penalties include fines and prison sentences of up to 20 years for those in charge of the business. However, companies which have been proactive in preventing corruption occurring can present the defence of having “adequate procedures” in place, to prove the necessary measures were taken to prevent the incident occurring and therefore those in charge should not be held liable.

OBJECTIVES

The workshop will explain the Amendment and guide participants how to establish the necessary adequate procedures using ISO 37001:2016 for Anti-Bribery Management Systems (ABMS) as the framework. Delegates will be equipped with an in-depth understanding of the new legislation, what the adequate procedures should require in practice, and direction on how to set up the main procedures, based on the requirements of the ISO 37001.

OUTLINE

- Anti-corruption legislative landscape: Malaysian and international laws covering corporate liability for bribery offences
- Case study: how a corruption incident can affect a global MNC
- The ISO 37001 framework: components of a comprehensive anti-bribery system
- The adequate procedures: exploration of the principles, cross referenced to ISO 37001

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By attending this course, the participants will be able to:

- Understand how corporate liability for corruption works and what adequate procedures are needed to protect the company
- Examine case studies of companies which have been hit by corruption scandals, with lessons to be learned
- Develop an understanding on the components of an effective business integrity system based on ISO 37001 and international best practice
